ROUTE 66 RACE

In 1928, a Cherokee farm boy ran the entirety of U.S. Route 66 — Los Angeles to Chicago — and onward to New York City. The halfway point for that era's biggest sporting event was Claremore, Oklahoma.

Most of the competitors could not endure the 84 grueling days of the Trans-Continental Footrace. The Mother Road crossed through the Mojave Desert and wound along vast plains, offering blistering heat, sleet and snow. Only 55 runners would cross the finish line in Madison Square Garden.

Andy Payne won the race 16 hours ahead of them all.

On April 12, 2025, the Claremore Museum of History and the Cherokee Nation will officially kick off Oklahoma's Route 66 centennial celebrations with the Andy Payne Route 66 5K and Fun Run. We invite you to sponsor this event as we honor Andy's legacy and highlight Claremore's role in race history. Together, we can create a race that resonates in our community, brings new visitors to our hometown and showcases the historic Mother Road.

Sponsorships are arranged in levels and come with promotional benefits for your organization. Please feel free to contact us for more information. We look forward to hearing from you.
